BUSINESS CAREER

My business career has embraced multinationals, plc's, sme's and family-owned businesses in a wide range of industries as a CFO and business manager which has been recognised with the Chartered Manager designation which is the highest business management qualification.

I have lectured to mature students studying for professional qualifications and presented financial appreciation courses to business executives.

I have part-time non-executive roles providing advice to directors on strategy and governance and have acted as a trustee with a multi school academy. My membership of three chartered institutes ensure I work to the highest professional and ethical standards and my extensive business experience complements my forensic accounting skills with proven and accredited business acumen.
