HOSPITAL AND ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

- 1982-89 After attaining the MSc in Periodontology at University College Hospital, I was required to draw up the protocols and manage a major clinical trial investigating the effects and limitations of synthetic bone grafting material in the treatment of severe periodontal diseases. Post of Research Fellow and then Clinical Lecturer were awarded at this time.
- 1987-92 Appointed Director of the School of Dental Hygiene at University College Hospital with full responsibility for the administration and running of the school.
- Most of the lectures in General Pathology, Physiology, Anatomy of the Head and Neck and Periodontology were given by me. In addition, Clinical supervision of the student hygienists and undergraduate dental students was undertaken by me. It was not uncommon for me to be leading a combined clinic of student hygienists, dental students and junior hospital staff, effectively performing all of the functions of a Dental Surgeon of Consultant grade.

- 1991-92 The head of department of Periodontology resigned to take up a post abroad and in view of the impending closure of the department, no appointment for head of the department was made. During this period, I ran clinics in the Periodontology department undertaking the tasks normally expected of an Consultant although I was not graded as such. At this time I was directly responsible to the Dean of the Faculty, Professor Alexander, and my advice was regularly sought from the Restorative department, Childrens Dentistry department and Orthodontic department on periodontal aspects of treatment being planned in these departments. Therefore, during this period I accepted clinical responsibilities equivalent to those of a full Consultant although I did not have the grading that would normally be appropriate to a hospital clinician with these responsibilities.
- 1993- 95 Appointed Honorary Research Fellow, Eastman's Dental Institute, Grays Inn Road, London.
- 1995 -04 Appointed Senior Research Fellow, Eastman's Dental Institute, Grays Inn Road, London.
- 1995 -04 Appointed Lecturer in Periodontology, London University, London.
- 2013m et seq Invited to devise and present a 6 day CPD theoretical and hands-on course for hygienists and dentists at LonDEC (Kings Collage/NHS postgraduate Centre in Central London), currently being repeated for the 6th time.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR LECTURE EXPERIENCE

- 1982-95 Regular contributor to Dental Vocational Training Schemes on various aspects of Periodontology and Dental Practice Management.
- 1987- Invitations have been, and are still being, accepted to lecture and give postgraduate training and seminars in hospitals and postgraduate centres throughout the UK.
- 1991 Invited to present a lecture at the Annual General Meeting of the American Academy of Periodontology in Vacouver, Canada, on the subject of “Assessment of Biodegradable Membrane Materials for use in the Technique of Guided Tissue Regeneration”.
- 1992 Invited to present a lecture at the Annual General Meeting of the American Academy of Periodontology in Orlando, USA, on the subject of
